U.S. Internal Revenue Service Information for Citizens Abroad

Because of budget cuts, an IRS representative will not be at the Embassy this year. However, ACS does maintain a list of accountants in Buenos Aires that may assist you. IMPORTANT: The most current and relevant information on both domestic and international U.S. tax filing can be found at www.irs.gov.

Debido a cortes presupuestarios, se ha cancelado la visita anual del asesor del IRS. De todas maneras, la Sección Consular mantiene una lista de contadores públicos en Buenos Aires que podrán asesorarlo.

IMPORTANTE: Visite www.irs.gov donde encontrará las últimas novedades para la presentación de impuestos a nivel local e internacional.

UPS Now Delivers U.S. Federal Tax Returns via WW

Express and Express Plus

UPS has been designated an authorized private delivery service for transporting U.S. federal tax returns originating outside of the U.S. for filing in the United States. The designation was recently awarded to UPS by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and their Treasury Department.

Important note:

Effective September 1, 2001, UPS Worldwide express plus and worldwide express services are now recognized service options to be used by customers (individuals and corporations) when filing their U.S. tax returns from outside the U.S. Previously only customers physically located in the States could file their federal tax returns using a domestic express courier and take advantage of what is known as the timely mailed as timely filed legislation. This is the legal assurance that the IRS will recognize that the tax documents tendered to the courier are considered to be filed by the appropriate date just as if the customer used the United States Postal Service.

Until now, UPS customers sending tax returns to the U.S. from abroad have been limited to using foreign postal administrations. The new designation including UPS international services, worldwide express and express plus, will benefit taxpayers by providing them with the reliability, convenience and speed of air express delivery, conveniences rarely matched by foreign postal services. Moreover, foreign postal services do not normally guarantee delivery. Taxpayers using UPS services can be confident that their tax payments and returns will be promptly delivered to the IRS intact.

UPS services provide guaranteed express delivery (normally 1-2 days), meaning that the IRS will receive tax returns and payments more quickly than if the taxpayers used a foreign postal administration. The IRS also will be able to easily confirm the dates when the taxpayers tendered their returns and payments to UPS, and will have access to electronic records of the packages delivered to it by UPS. These reliability and tracking advantages will help reduce and resolve controversies with taxpayers over issues of timely filing.

Airborne, DHL, and FedEx currently are designated as delivery options for tax returns shipped within the U.S. but they are not designated for international service.

UPS is the only carrier to receive IRS International filing authorization.

The United States Internal Revenue Service (IRS) recently determined UPS's guaranteed international express services, UPS worldwide express and UPS worldwide express plus, as the only services it recognizes as being "timely mailed". Due to the strength of the UPS network, the IRS only requires filers have a UPS tracking number to prove their federal tax filings were sent on time. UPS is the only private carrier to receive this designation. While U.S. tax-filers living abroad can use any carrier they prefer, the IRS will consider only returns filed using UPS services as "timely mailed and timely filed". The designation is a testament to UPS's international service to more than 200 countries and territories (and guaranteed two-day service from more than 1600 countries and territories to the United States).

IRS/FATCA

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) requires that foreign financial institutions provide information to the IRS on U.S. holders of accounts. In order to comply with this law, Argentine financial institutions such as banks may request U.S. persons who hold accounts to submit documentation. While this law does not change existing tax reporting requirements for U.S. persons abroad, it may require the filing of additional documents depending on your situation. The requirement for U.S. persons--such as citizens, residents, and other taxpayers--to report their foreign earned, interest, and investment income remains the same.

For questions about requirements, please refer to the IRS website: <http://www.irs.gov/Businesses/Corporations/Summary-of-FATCA-Reporting-for-U.S.-Taxpayers>

You may also contact the IRS International Taxpayer Service Call Center at (001) 267-941-1000.
